Il marketing del turismo. Politiche e strategie di marketing per località, imprese e prodotti/servizi turistici Antonio Foglio,2015-06-09 La più completa e dettagliata esposizione di tutto quanto occorre sapere in tema di marketing del turismo. Il libro è indicato per imprenditori turistici, manager e personale di strutture alberghiere, ristorative, compagnie di trasporto, imprese fornitric

Trade marketing & sales management Daniele Fornari,2018-10-31T00:00:00+01:00 Nell'ultimo decennio, oltre che con una grande e lunga crisi economica, le imprese si sono confrontate con una fase storica che ha segnato, citando un'efficacia metafora di Karl Popper, il passaggio dal mondo degli orologi al mondo delle nuvole. Il mondo degli orologi era un mondo deterministico, razionale, ordinato, lineare, semplice. Il mondo delle nuvole, invece, è un mondo irregolare, mutevole, caotico, imprevedibile, complesso. Nel mondo degli orologi per le imprese era facile fare previsioni, costruire i budget aziendali e i piani di Marketing. Nel mondo delle nuvole fare previsioni è sempre più complicato con un crescente scostamento negativo tra i risultati consuntivi e i risultati previsti. Questo passaggio richiede lo sviluppo di nuovi paradigmi di analisi per valutare gli effetti, sui processi di Marketing, dei fenomeni di discontinuità riguardanti i modelli di shopping dei consumatori, il confronto competitivo tra i canali di vendita offline e online, il posizionamento delle marche negli assortimenti commerciali, gli assetti competitivi dei gruppi distributivi, la configurazione dei rapporti negoziali tra produttori e distributori, le strutture organizzative di interfaccia. Il libro si propone di analizzare in modo approfondito ed aggiornato questi effetti. In contesti di mercato in cui le imprese di produzione sono sempre più costrette a competere non solo sul mercato finale, quello dei consumatori, ma anche sul mercato intermedio, quello dei canali di vendita, le politiche di Trade Marketing e di Sales Management hanno assunto sempre di più una valenza strategica diventando una fonte basilare del vantaggio competitivo aziendale.

La lezione di Expo. Comunicare con i grandi eventi. Da Milano 2015 a Dubai 2020 Pasquale Maria Cioffi,2017-06-26 Durante i sei mesi di Expo 2015 sono stati migliaia gli articoli che i giornali nazionali e stranieri hanno dedicato agli appuntamenti dell'Esposizione Universale. È mancata tuttavia una riflessione. Da qui la necessità di raccontare cosa significa investire su un grande evento e quali ritorni riescono a ottenere gli investitori e, soprattutto, la collettività. Questo volume raccoglie le testimonianze dirette dei principali protagonisti di Expo Milano, i quali raccontano cosa hanno realizzato, come e con che risultati. La «Lezione di Expo 2015» è utile per preservare quella esperienza e cercare di utilizzarla nella costruzione di altri grandi eventi. Il modello di Milano è stato ripreso nelle prossime Esposizioni di «Astana 2017» e «Dubai 2020» che rappresentano già da ora un'opportunità per imprese e professionisti del nostro paese.

Sweet, Reinforced and Fortified Wines Fabio Mencarelli, Pietro Tonutti,2013-04-16 Wines from Grape Dehydration is the first of its kind in the field of grape dehydration - the controlled drying process which produces a special group of wines. These types of wine are the most ancient, made in the Mediterranean basin, and are even described in Herodotus. Until few years ago, it was thought that these wines - such as Pedro Ximenez, Tokai, Passito, and Vin Santo - were the result of simple grape drying, because the grapes were left in the sun, or inside greenhouses that had no controls over temperature, relative humidity or ventilation. But Amarone wine, one of the most prized wines in the world, is the first wine in which the drying is a controlled process. This controlled process - grape dehydration - changes the grape at the biochemical level, and involves specialist vine management, postharvest technology and production processes, which are different from the typical wine-making procedure. After a history of grape dehydration, the book is then divided into two sections; scientific and technical. The scientific section approaches the subjects of vineyard management and dehydration technology and how they affect the biochemistry and the quality compounds of grape; as well as vinification practices to preserve primary volatiles compounds and colour of grape. The technical section is devoted to four main classes of wine: Amarone, Passito, Pedro Ximenez, and Tokai. The book then covers sweet wines not made by grape dehydration, and the analytical/sensorial characteristics of the wines. A concluding final chapter addresses the market for these special wines. This book is intended for wineries and wine makers, wine operators, postharvest specialists, vineyard managers/growers, enology/wine students, agriculture/viticulture faculties and course leaders and food processing scientists

How We Compete Suzanne Berger,2005-12-27 Impressive... This is an evidence-based bottom-up account of the realities of globalisation. It is more varied, more subtle, and more substantial than many of the popular works available on the subject. -- Financial Times Based on a five-year study by the MIT Industrial Performance Center, How We Compete goes into the trenches of over 500 international companies to discover which practices are succeeding in today's global economy, which are failing -and why. There is a rising fear in America that no job is safe. In industry after industry, jobs seem to be moving to low-wage countries in Asia, Central America, and Eastern Europe. Production once handled entirely in U.S. factories is now broken into pieces and farmed out to locations around the world. To discover whether our current fears about globalization are justified, Suzanne Berger and a group of MIT researchers went to the front lines, visiting workplaces and factories around the world. They conducted interviews with managers at more than 500 companies, asking questions about which parts of the manufacturing process are carried out in their own plants and which are outsourced, who their biggest competitors are, and how they plan to grow their businesses. How We Compete presents their fascinating, and often surprising, conclusions. Berger and her team examined businesses where technology changes rapidly—such as electronics and software—as well as more traditional sectors, like the automobile industry, clothing, and textile industries. They compared the strategies and success of high-tech companies like Intel and Sony, who manufacture their products in their own plants, and Cisco and Dell, who rely primarily on outsourcing. They looked closely at textile and clothing to uncover why some companies, including the Gap and Liz Claiborne, choose to outsource production to foreign countries, while others, such as Zara and Benetton, base most operations at home. What emerged was far more complicated than the black-and-white picture presented by promoters and opponents of globalization. Contrary to popular belief, cheap labor is not the answer, and the world is not flat, as Thomas Friedman would have it. How We Compete shows that there are many different ways to win in the global economy, and that the avenues open to American companies are much wider than we ever imagined. SUZANNE BERGER is the Raphael Dorman and Helen Starbuck Professor of Political Science at MIT and director of the MIT International Science and Technology Initiative. She was a member of the MIT Commission on Industrial Productivity, whose report Made in America analyzed weaknesses and strengths in U.S. industry in the 1980s. She lives in Boston , Massachusetts.
